FAVORS TURKEY RED.

C. H. Rosenberg, of Fulton, Has Had Excellent Success With It.

C. H. Rosenberg, of Fulton, is planting 640 acres to winter wheat—his usual average, of which 180 acres will be Turkey Red. In 1903 Mr. Rosenberg harvested 180 acres of Turkey Red, and the same acreage this year, and now he is putting in the third crop of it, determined to give it the most conclusive trial possible.

The average for the Turkey Red in 1903 was 31 bushels per acre and 40 bushels this year. This year it yielded a better average than any wheat Mr. Rosenberg raised, and the quality was right up to the claims made for it by W. S. Byers, who is trying so hard to get it introduced. Mr. Rosenberg got bluestem prices for every bushel of it, and avers that in every respect it made as strong and as fine flour as he ever raised on his place.

The only possible drawback that Mr. Rosenberg can discover about Turkey Red is that being a bearded wheat stock are reluctant about eating it; in fact, will not eat it when they can get anything else readily. Mr. Rosenberg is trying to discover the identity of the individual who quoted him as expressing dissatisfaction with Turkey Red.

PREDICTED SWAUGER'S DEATH.

Dr. C. T. Taylor, Formerly of Kamela, Said Seymour Swauger Would Die a Violent Death.

Eight years ago, in writing a horoscope of Seymour Swauger, who met such a horrible death under the wheels of an O. R. & N. train near Bingham Springs Saturday morning, Dr. C. T. Taylor of Kamela, predicted that Swauger would meet with a violent death before he was 50 years of age.

Taylor was O. R. & N. agent at Kamela, for nine years, and was an astrologer of more than local reputation, and wrote horoscopes for nearly everybody on the Blue mountains. From the study of Swauger's stars, and from the reckonings made from the date and time of his birth, Taylor said that he was sure to meet such a death, and that it would come before the man had reached 50 years of age.

Swauger took the matter as an idle

DEHORNED CATTLE.

Asa Thompson Pays Ten Cents Per Hundred More for Hornless Animals.

Asa Thompson yesterday drove through 112 head of dehorned steers from the southern part of the county, headed for his Butter Creek ranch, where they will be full fed for the spring markets. He paid $2.60 per 100 for these animals, which is 10 cents per 100 more than they would otherwise bring, on account of the absence of horns.

Mr. Thompson has 1230 tons of alfalfa hay put up of this year's hay crop—the yield of approximately 200 acres. This purchase at an advanced price of dehorned steers by a man of Mr. Thompson's experience illustrates the regard in which dehorned cattle are held. They "feed like sheep," don't fight or scuffle around and waste their hay by trampling. The direct profit in dehorned animals compared with those not dehorned, is far greater than a mere 10 cents per 100 advance in the live animal.

INDIANA NURSERYMEN.

Will Probably Invest in Fruit Lands in Northern Part of County.

Ira Motter and Will G. Metcalf, of Stark county, Indiana, have arrived and have inspected the town and neighboring country for some days. They are well pleased, but left this morning for Arlington and the interior.

Both are about convinced that they cannot do better than to invest in this county, and prefer the irrigated fruit lands of the northern portion of the county. They think of going into the Des Chutes country and starting a nursery in some newly opened settlement, but hardly expect to do that as "they know that their women folks will object to going into a frontier."

Both are interested in a nursery at Knox, Ind., but the probabilities are that they will engage in fruit farming here.

Looking for His Brother.

Ira Wrench, of Stockton, Cal., arrived on the early train from the West. Mr. Wrench is in search of his brother, Oscar M. Wrench, who came into the Northwest about three months ago and was last heard from six weeks ago, when a letter was received from him which was written at Arlington and stated that the writer was coming to Pendleton. Mr. Wrench has little idea that his brother came here, however, or that he had any serious intention of coming here when he wrote, but as there is no clue to his whereabouts in any other direction, he will look the ground over. His most plausible theory is that his brother has gone to Asotin county, Wash., where there are a number of relatives and old friends of the family.

Bross Goes East.

Ernest Bross, who has been managing editor of the Portland Oregonian for seven years, has gone to Indianapolis, Ind., to be managing editor of a syndicate of independent newspapers of which the Star will be the chief paper. Bross began work with the Oregonian 17 years ago as a reporter and has held every position of trust on the paper up to managing editor.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

At the last meeting of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Robert Warner was elected temporary chairman, no regular president having yet been chosen. Mrs. A. M. Raley was selected a delegate to represent the local society at the state meeting in Portland. The next meeting will be held on next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gwinn, at 218 South Main. All those interested in the work are cordially invited to be present.

A PIONEER GONE

MILLER VAUGHAN, VETERAN STAGE DRIVER, DEAD.

For Over 35 Years This Pioneer Occupied the Driver's Seat on Oregon and Idaho Stage Coaches—Came to Oregon in 1852 at the Age of 10—Was a Packer From Umatilla Landing to Helena in the Early '60s—Wife Died 17 Years Ago—Large Family Survives Him.

Miller Vaughan, pioneer of the West and veteran stage driver, is dead. Death was due to paralysis, with which he was stricken last Friday. The funeral will take place in this city tomorrow morning at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of Charles Eppinger, at 612 College street.

Miller Vaughan occupied the driver's seat of a stage coach for more than 35 years and was considered one of the oldest stage drivers in the United States. For the past few years he had ceased to be actively engaged in driving, but his fatal illness came as he was seated in a coach out of Sumpter.

Dr. Eugene A. Vaughan, a son residing in Pendleton, hurried to Sumpter and had his father removed to this city. Death came at 2 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Vaughan was born near Chicago, Ill., January 22, 1842. He came West with his parents 10 years later and settled at French Prairie, in Southern Oregon. He came to Pendleton in 1860 and engaged in packing between Umatilla and Helena, Mont. He was married in Portland about 35 years ago. Mrs. Vaughan has been dead over 17 years.

The following children survive him: Dr. E. A. Vaughan, John L. Vaughan and Mrs. Catherine Eppinger, of Pendleton; Dr. Frank Vaughan, of Astoria; R. J. Vaughan and Thomas Vaughan, of San Francisco.

Dr. Frank Vaughan arrived in Pendleton yesterday from Astoria.

PIONEER STAGE DRIVER.

Tom Vaughan One of the Most Interesting of Oregon Pioneers.

The Sumpter Miner, in speaking of the illness of Tom Vaughan, the veteran stage driver and father of Dr. E. A. Vaughan of this city, says:

Every old-timer between The Dalles and Pendleton knows Tom Vaughan, who in the sixties drove stage from Umatilla, which was at that time the biggest town in the inland country, through to the then young town of Pendleton.

Later he handled the ribbons for Joe Keeney's stage line between Pendleton and Walla Walla. He has been in hold-ups and express robberies without number. A son, Dr. Eugene Vaughan, a prominent dentist, resides at Pendleton, and another son, Frank, likewise a dentist, is located at Astoria.

MRS. JAMES WILSON DEAD.

Daughter of Charles Ogilvy, of Pilot Rock—Funeral at Pilot Rock.

Mrs. James A. Wilson died last night at St. Anthony's hospital of consumption. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at Pilot Rock. Rev. Robert Warner, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city, officiating. Interment will be at Pilot Rock.

Mrs. Mary Wilson was born in New Zealand 29 years ago and came to Umatilla when a child. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ogilvy, of Pilot Rock, and leaves a husband and three small children. She was a sister of the following:

Mrs. Henry Belts, of Pendleton; David Ogilvy, of North Yakima; Mrs. Ida Beaman, of Touchet; Mrs. Clinton Bissett, of La Grande; Mrs. Grant Blystone, of Walla Walla; Mrs. Minnie Kutser, of Shaniko; Miss Lotte Ogilvy, of Pendleton; Walter Roy, Maggie, Clarence and Elsie Ogilvy, of Pilot Rock.

Mrs. Wilson was well known in Pendleton and throughout Umatilla county and leaves a large number of friends.

"BIG JIM" NOT DEAD.

Umatilla Indian Gives a Version of the Accident to Himself.

"Big Jim" Nacimse tells an extraordinary story of the accident which befell him about a month ago near Weiser, on the Snake river, as a result of which he was variously stated as having been murdered, having suicided, having been accidentally shot and killed.

"Big Jim" gives the following version of the accident. He was stalking a covey of ducks on Snake river, with a 44-calibre pistol. His eyes were riveted on the ducks, and before he knew of any obstacles in his path he had fallen over some rocks. The pistol became turned with the muzzle toward him as he stumbled, and was discharged, the ball striking him about three and a half inches below the heart and ranging slightly upward and to the left.

Mr. Bushman realized that he was seriously hurt and managed to get back to camp and without assistance. He refused point-blank to have a doctor, but utilized what instinctive knowledge he had of anatomy to "work at" the wound in an endeavor to locate the bullet, which he soon vomited up, with a quantity of clotted blood. He has the bullet in his possession now. For some time he was unable to hunt or fish—in fact, was out of commission during the remainder of the time the tribe was in Idaho.

"Big Jim" comes very nearly being in his usual state of robust health, his appetite and digestion being vigorous, but whenever he over-exerts either by riding or working, he "gets kind of sick" across the entire abdominal region, but rest and quietude bring relief soon.

Lawyers Looking for Location.

F. A. Wolfe and E. D. Foster, of Joliet, Ill., are two young lawyers—recent university and law school graduates, who have arrived with the intention of thoroughly investigating the Northwest with the intention of locating. They will put in two years along novel lines of procedure if necessary. They will work on farms on the railroads and on irrigating ditches while in search of a suitable place to locate. They will, if possible, locate in some new town that has an evident future before it.

In the Garden of Eden.

Ed Woody has definitely concluded to locate in Seattle, and has bought property there and will move his family to that place about November 1. Mr. Woody has embarked in the real estate business, handling property in Garden of Eden, which is a recently laid out suburb of Seattle, and distant five miles from the heart of the city. Mr. Woody is enthusiastic about his own and the prospects of Garden of Eden.

Ukiah Horse Association.

An association of Ukiah farmers has been organized to deal in blooded horses for the most part for the direct benefit of the members of the association, who are Mossie & Son, C. N. McReynolds, A. McKenzie, S. E. Clark, M. E. Sturdivant, E. Brim and J. T. Huston. The firm begins active business by the purchase of a $4000 3-year-old imported black Percheron stallion of McLaughlin Bros., through the latter's agent, M. D. Shutt of this place.

Preached an Able Sermon.

Rev. R. Boyns of Portland, preached in the Methodist Church South, yesterday, and was greeted by a large audience and rapt attention. He is an able and pleasing speaker. Mr. Boyns formerly preached in Oakland, Cal., and is known as one of the able men in the Western ministry of that church. He is now engaged in business, his preaching being incidental and usually while a guest on his business travels.

Gone to Biggs.

Will Terrill left this morning for Biggs, where he will work on a residence which his brother-in-law, J. T. Willis, has the contract for building. Mr. Willis lived here during the summer with his family, coming from Sheridan, Wyo., with the intention of locating. He concluded the field was already crowded here. It is likely that his brother, N. N. Willis, will also go to Biggs.

To Clarkston for the Winter.

Mrs. L. T. Siegel and the children went north this morning to join her husband at Clarkston. Mr. Siegel is a blacksmith from Hastings, Neb., who came to the Northwest for his health. He took government land on lower Butter creek and will return to it in the spring. They resided in the eastern part of town since last June.

Edward Culp is Advance Agent.

Edward Culp, a Pendleton boy, is the advance agent for the Keith Theatrical Co., and has been with the company in that capacity for the past year and over. Mr. Culp is satisfied with his employment and associations and intends to stay in the theatrical business. He will go to Baker City, representing the Keith people, tonight.

Bought 250 Head Stock Steers.

Harry Rogers has just driven in from the Condon district to his Butter Creek ranch 250 head of stock steers which he will feed for the spring markets. He paid an average of $2.50 per hundred for the animals, although they were bought by the head.

New Osteopathic Physician.

Dr. S. C. Holsington of Kirksville, Mo., has arrived with his wife, who is also a physician of the osteopathic school, and has bought out the practice and office fixtures of Dr. Mahaffey, who expects to remove to a town near Grand Island, Neb.

W. S. Lindsey Invests.

W. S. Lindsey has secured an interest in the Depot stables in this city. He was formerly engaged in business in Pendleton, but went to Lewiston and Moscow. "I had to return," he said, "for I found there was nothing like Pendleton after all."

Building an Addition.

Chris Ranley is building a 16-foot rear addition to the north side of his building on Cottonwood street between Court and Alta, and has rented the building to a Chinaman for a restaurant.

Horse Importer Coming.

William McLaughlin, of the horse importing firm of McLaughlin Bros., telegraphs D. A. Collins that he will arrive in Pendleton about the 30th inst., with another carload of horses.
